PROFILE

Full-stack engineer with 4 years building production software and translating business problems into shipped products. Works across product definition, system architecture, workflow design and monetisation models — taking concepts from early definition through implementation and launch. Builds multi-tenant SaaS, payment and escrow flows, workflow engines and production REST APIs, paired with clean, accessible frontends in React and Next.js. Founder of three products and delivery partner on commercial client platforms across proptech, commerce, ticketing and social media intelligence.
